Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1500 on Tuesday 10 Aug 2021

UK Outlook for Wednesday 25 Aug 2021 to Wednesday 8 Sep 2021:
Confidence is very low through this period. There are signs that the UK will continue to be under the influence of high pressure with settled weather more likely in the south. However, some spells of heavy rain and thunderstorms are possible at times. The north of the UK will probably remain changeable and often unsettled. Temperatures are likely to be overall near or slightly above average.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.